Subject: Back-End Developer Cover Letter

Dear [Hiring Manager's Name],

My name is [Your Name] and I am applying for the Back-End Developer post that was published on [Job Board]. After obtaining my degree in Computer Science, I have developed a keen interest to specialize in server-side applications through my internships and self-directed projects. I already believe that I have what it takes to fit well into your development team.

While completing my [Previous Company] internship, I got to learn extensively about the API-s based services development and visualization using Node.js, Express Framework and different types of databases, like MongoDB and PostgreSQL. My core duty was updating and expanding web functionalities to meet change in users' requests parameters. Likewise, I was in contact with designers in order to develop proper back-end and front-end interfaces.

Building exciting websites using powerful techniques and technologies at [Company Name] is a personal pleasure of mine. I hope to join your development team and use my backend skills in real-world implementations.

I appreciate you taking the time to read my cover letter. I am looking forward to the possibility of talking to you regarding how I can be a valuable asset to your company.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]
